

The team at justaboutcyprus.com have all gone through the processes of permanently moving to Cyprus, and we know how difficult it can be when it comes to clearing out your home, and shipping your personal possessions. Most of the team used Burk Bros Moving Group UK, and those that didn't, wished they had.

Burke Bros UK have been very much involved with customers transporting their cars and motorbikes between the UK and Cyprus. We highly recommend them if you are considering relocating to Cyprus, or if you want to ship personal items or even a complete household move to Cyprus, or back to the UK or indeed anywhere in Europe or International destinations.

Gary Burke is the Managing Director of the UK International moving firm Burke Bros Moving Group. He is also the European Regional Director within the Pan American International Movers Association of America (PAIMA), and we have no doubt that he doesn't know about International removals isn't worth knowing.

Since March 2008, when Burke Bros forged a special overseas partnership which saw them working exclusively with MK Worldwide Movers in Cyprus, they have developed close operational ties in overseas removals to and from Cyprus, which has resulted in them being the first choice for people who are moving between Cyprus and the UK.

Burk Bros UK recently gave a great show to the visitors of 'The France Show 2010' which was held in London. More than 14,000 visitors attended the show and were treated to an insight into how much can be securely packed into an 18 tonne truck. Just in case any of the audience may have been uncertain, they drove the 18 tonne truck onto their display stand, and showed the visitors live exactly how their personal possessions would be carefully packed for their journey, and how the split level packing works, and box stacking, as well as how the side panels can be opened to gain greater access. They also showed the crowd how motorcycles are fixed within their very own tailor-made secure crates. The audience were very enthusiastic to see the professionalism that goes into packing and removals, so much so that many were clambering into the truck to have a closer inspection. The show went down so well that people are still talking about Burk Bros and their amazing packing techniques today.

When a company is prepared to go to such measures to let you see exactly how your personal possessions will be treated, it can only confirm that they are indeed highly professional, and with nothing to hide. Burke Bros want to assure you that you can have confidence in their expertise.
